

Exploring Tamano

Tourist Information ▲

Tamano City is located at the southern tip of Okayama Prefecture, a picturesque port town blessed with the beautiful nature of the Seto Inland Sea, and a mild climate.

Shibukawa Beach

A stunning coastline of white sand and green pine trees stretches approximately 1 kilometer. Recognized as one of Japan's Top 100 Beaches and Top 100 Best Beaches, it stands out as one of largest beach in Okayama. Perfect for a refreshing walk, and just a 20-minute drive from Uno Port.

Shibukawa Marine Aquarium

A unique aquarium that includes a museum. The aquarium focuses on sea creatures from the Seto Inland Sea, but includes those from all over Japan. The museum offers a treasure trove of information where one can learn about nature and cultural phenomena. About a 20-minute drive from Uno Port, right next to Shibukawa Beach.

Mt. Ojigatake

Mt. Ojigatake is a designated part of Seto Inland sea National Park. Its dramatic views feature massive and unique rock formations. From the 234-meter summit, you can enjoy breathtaking panoramas of the Seto Inland Sea's islands, the entirety of the Seto Ohashi Bridge, and the distant mountains of Shikoku. Seasonal blooms like cherry blossoms and azaleas add to its charm in spuing, making it perfect for hiking and relaxation. About a 10-minute drive from Shibukawa Beach.

Setouchi Art and Industry

2026.10.3-31 Official Website: Ticket Information ►

A new art festival centered on industrial settings is launching. It focuses on the technologies, wisdom, human activities, and allure of the industries that sustain local life. This decentralized festival explores the theme of "Industrial Art"—showcasing the primary and secondary industries rooted in the Setouchi region in a stylish and compelling way through art that reveals familiar, everyday scenes from a fresh perspective.

Uno Port

SHIMASHIMA

These benches are inspired by islands floating in the Seto Inland Sea. Uno Port, where many ships arrive and depart for islands in the Seto Inland Sea, is the gateway to the sea and the venue for the art festival. Here, we created the "Island of Beginnings", the first stop for people traveling from island to island. We hope that people can experience time more slowly at Uno Port, enjoy the art, the sea, and the nature of the Seto Inland Sea.
